Every FCS Automotive product is engineered to meet O.E.M. quality using the latest state of the art manufacturing processes. All components and valving are specifically designed and calibrated to match form, fit and function for vehicle application and provide the OE ride and feel. Each unit is compression & durability tested to ensure units meet OE specifications. All units include Freudenberg NOK seals, a highly- polished chrome rod finish, high performance shock oil and an OE style piston to ensure premium OE quality.
